

Makeup & Skin Care Getting Ready For Summer

WITH COLLEEN MACK

Why is protection important?

- ▶ Approximately $\frac{3}{4}$ of people with lupus suffer from photosensitivity
- ▶ The UVA and UVB rays cause a reaction with our DNA and RNA which leads to the inflammation and redness in the skin.
- ▶ Other symptoms include:
 - ▶ Butterfly or malar rash
 - ▶ Skin lesions
 - ▶ Sun induced flare ups

Skin Care Routine

There are three main steps to a basic skincare routine:

- Cleansing – Washing your face
- Toning – Balancing the skin
- Moisturize – Hydrating the skin

When applying your skin care it should be based on the consistency of the products (thinnest to thickest)

Cleanser → Toner → Serum → Eye Cream → Moisturizer (SPF)

What do they do?

- It helps lock in all the product, prevents creasing, smudging or fading.
- Different setting sprays can have a dewy or matte finish

Setting sprays with SPF:

- Pixi Sun Mist – SPF 30
- Pacifica Set & Protect – SPF 45
- Milani Make It Last – SPF 30

Makeup Tips For Summer

Use a setting spray with SPF for touch ups throughout the day.

Dermaplane before applying makeup.

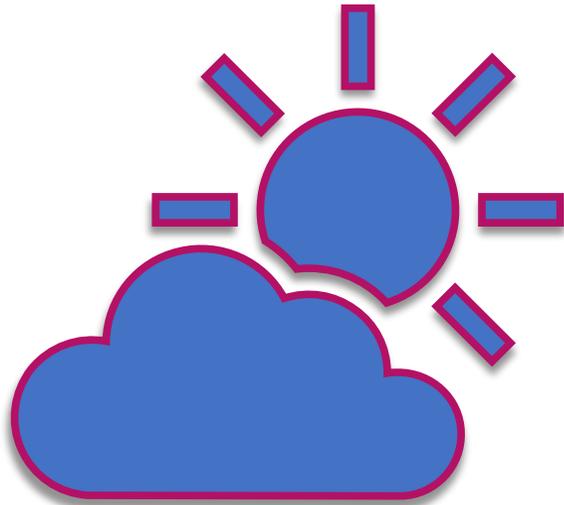

Use a gripping primer.

Less is more - Use a CC cream or spot conceal with concealer.

Don't powder – BLOT!

Special Tip: To melt your foundation and other products into the skin, spray a setting spray all over the face, go in with a damp beauty blender and pat all over face for 4-6 minutes. After take a tissue and lightly tap over your face to remove any excess makeup.
